FUTURE WORLD IN 2070

- Institutional marriage system will decrease.
- Individual comfort will have priority over any other issue.
- Medically generated high quality and intellectual baby will be in demand.
- Husband /Wife working families will increase thus less parental care for future generation.
- On birth, a baby will have bad and good perception which gradually develops with the parental care and by society. The bad perception grows from mother's womb. But good quality develops after birth. In due course, good quality prevails over bad quality and a man becomes perfect. In view of lower parental care and less contribution by Society, the bad perception on individual will override good perception for many individuals.
- Persons will be robotic rather than human being.
